RESIGNATION OF GERMAN CHIEFS NOW EXPECTED

Cabinet Headed By Fehrenbach and Simons Losing.

HOLD COUNCIL

Hughes Note Said To Be "Death Blow" To Leaders.

Berlin, May 4.—The resignation of the cabinet headed by Chancellor Fehrenbach and foreign Minister Simons was regarded as imminent when the cabinet met this morning to consider the indemnity situation. It was reported in semi-official circles that new German proposals were being sent to the allies as a result of the note from Secretary of State Hughes, but the details were not expected to be completed before tomorrow.

The communication from Secretary Hughes urging Germany to communicate an acceptable reparations offer direct to the allies at once was described as a "death blow" to the present ministry. A cabinet council was held Tuesday evening when the discussions centered upon the Hughes note and the advisability of immediate resignation by the ministry. On account of the meagreness of advices from London it was decided to postpone a definite decision until today. After the break up of the meeting it was declared that the resignation of the Fehrenbach-Simons cabinet was only a matter of hours unless more favorable news was received from London.

A meeting of the foreign affairs committee of the reichstag was summoned today.

The text of Secretary Hughes' note was made public here shortly after it was received by the foreign office.

BRILLIANT WEDDING OF INTERNATIONAL IMPORT OCCURS

Ceremony Takes Place In London Wednesday Morning.

London, May 4.—An international wedding of great brilliance took place today when Miss Violet Selfridge, daughter of H. Gordon Selfridge, formerly of Chicago, was married to Viscount Jacques DeSibour. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Bernard Vaughn at Brompton Oratory. The bride was given away by her father and Gordon Selfridge, Jr., was the groom's best man.

Miss Selfridge wore a white satin gown with an embroidered tunic of white tulle, trimmed with corsage lace that formerly belonged to Queenie Marie Antoinette of France. The train was of lace which had been an heirloom in the Selfridge family. The corsage lace had long been in the viscount's family and was a present to the bride from the groom's father. The bride carried a large bouquet of orange blossoms.

PUBLIC FINANCES SOUND IN SPITE OF DRAIN OF RAILS

Receipts Are Running Far Ahead Of Expenditures.

Washington, May 4.—Although payments to railroads have caused a terrific drain upon the treasury, the soundness of the public finance was revealed today in latest figures of the treasury showing ordinary receipts running far ahead of expenditures in the present fiscal year.

In the ten months of the fiscal year to May 1, total ordinary receipts have aggregated $4,651,000,000 and total ordinary disbursements $4,277,000,000. During the ten months period receipts dropped about $500,000,000 below last year. Total ordinary expenditures were cut from $5,533,000,000 to $4,277,000,000.

Ordinary receipts during the ten months came from these sources: customs $258,000,000; income and profits taxes, $2,588,000,000; miscellaneous revenues, $613,000,000; Panama Canal tolls etc., $1,529,000.

Essen To Be First German City To Fall To Allies

Seat Of Great Krupp Works Will Be Initial City To Be Occupied If Plans Of French Are Realized In Advance.

Essen, Germany, May 4.—Essen, the seat of the great Krupp works, which furnished the bulk of armaments used by Germany in the world war, will be the first German city occupied if the French advance into the Ruhr, according to the belief held among German officials here today. It is held to be a French plan to seize first the city, then the suburbs and then to extend occupation southward to meet another encircling column moving toward the north.

Movement of considerable bodies of French negro troops in the present zone of occupation leads to the conjecture that the French will employ them for occupation of Ruhr despite criticism against the use of colored soldiers.

The correspondent saw a train load of French colonials at Duren and another train load crossing the Cologne district moving north. It is reported that the colored troops will be placed under Gen. Mangin.

The population of the Ruhr shows no apparent concern over the possibility of military occupation by the French. The people seem to be more interested in the possible effect upon the exchange of money than anything else. There is firm conviction that the French troops are coming and there has been much speculation in German marks.

A division of French cavalry reached Dusseldorf on Tuesday together with 150 French mine experts.

Despite the movement of heavy forces of French troops to the Rhine no resistance is expected of the French advance.

At present Germany has about

U. S. EXPECTS TO BE INCLUDED IN COUNCIL ON REPARATIONS

State Department Officials Await Formal Notification To Send Representative—Interest Centers On German Attitude.

Washington, May 4.—Officials of the state department are today awaiting formal notification from the supreme council that the United States is invited to send a representative to that body and also to be represented on the reparations commission, before any action in that direction is taken. Pending receipt of official notification of the action of the supreme council, reported from London, officials refused to comment in any way indicating what the course of this government might be.

The Harding administration has given notice that it is vitally interested in the world economic adjustment rising out of the conclusion of the world war and it has been stated that the administration feels that there can be no return to normalcy in business and industry in the world until the question of German reparations is definitely settled. At the same time, however, there has been a very general impression given out by the administration that this nation will not become politically involved in political matters in Europe.

Perhaps more interest was apparent in official circles today in the next step to be taken by Germany in connection with reparations than in the question of representation of the United States on the supreme council and on the reparations commission. Officials let it be known that this government expects that Germany will follow the very definite suggestion set forth in the note of Secretary of State Hughes and will immediately make new proposals directly to the allied powers. It is understood that officials here hold the view that if Germany takes immediate steps towards presenting new proposals that invasion of the Ruhr may yet be forestalled.

If the United States accepts the invitation of the supreme council, it is believed that it will be entirely on the basis of the protection of American foreign trade interests now affected by European economic chaos and that the allies will be informed that this nation desires to protect these interests and not to take the position of becoming permanently involved in European political affairs.

Columbus, O., May 4.—An appeal to farm bureaus and state granges throughout the state to consider the question of taxation and other measures, now pending in the state legislature before the legislators reconvene here on May 12, has been made by C. A. Dwyer, secretary of the Ohio Home Protective League.

"The general assembly has done nothing toward a permanent solution of the taxation problem," declared Secretary Dwyer, who also was a member of Governor Davis' recent citizens committee which made recommendations to the governor and the legislature in an effort to effect a permanent solution of the taxation problem. "It would be a disaster if nothing is done before final adjournment," Dwyer said.

Two Important Witnesses In Stillman Case Called

Will Testify In Behalf Of James A. Stillman, When Hearings In Divorce Suit Are Resumed On Wednesday.

New York, May 4.—Two important witnesses, one of them a physician, were waiting to testify in behalf of James A. Stillman, former president of the National City Bank, when the hearings in the divorce suit brought by the multimillionaire against Mrs. "Fifi" Potter Stillman, were resumed before Referee Daniel J. Gleason at the Bar Association today.

Their testimony was said to be of a highly sensational character. Neither has figured in the case before. The physician is Dr. B. X. Russell of Buffalo. It is understood that his testimony relates to the paternity of Guy Stillman, youngest child in the Stillman household. It was reported that the doctor's testimony would be of vital importance to the banker's claim that Fred Beauvais, a Canadian Indian guide, is father of Guy. Beauvais, was named co-respondent by the banker.

The other new witness is a woman. Her name and residence were kept secret. She was a one time friend of Mrs. Stillman. It was said and through her testimony the banker's lawyers hoped to get the substance of the much mooted "hysteria confession letter" spread upon the record. Mrs. Stillman was alleged to have written the letter to her husband a few months before Guy Stillman was born.

The letter was barred from consideration in the alimony proceedings before Supreme Court Justice Morehouse at White Plains on the ground it was a privileged communication between wife and husband.

Mrs. Stillman's attorneys intimated their intention of trying to introduce it on an appeal from the alimony decision, but the appeal was never filed.

If its contents can be spread on the record through the testimony of an "outside" party, it is declared that the stroke would be of the utmost importance to the banker's case, particularly in his efforts to keep Guy from sharing in the millions of the Stillman estate.

The committeemen are: Drs. E. C. Smith, Cincinnati; Gainer Jennings, West Milton; E. H. Porter, Tiffin; R. L. Bidwell, Toledo; S. D. Bernstein, Cleveland; D. H. Morgan, Akron; Clyde Kirkland, Bellair; H. M. Hazelton, Lancaster; H. S. Holdren, Portsmouth and John E. Alcorn, Columbus.

Columbus, O., May 4.—Election of officers will take place today's session of the 75th annual convention of the Ohio State Medical Association, in session at the Elks club. Dr. Wells Teachnor, Columbus, this afternoon will take office as President of the association.

The officers elected this afternoon including president elect, will not take office until the annual convention is held next year. They will be chosen from a list selected by a nominating committee comprising one representative from each of the 10 districts in Ohio.

The committee members are: Drs. E. C. Smith, Cincinnati; Gainer Jennings, West Milton; E. H. Porter, Tiffin; R. L. Bidwell, Toledo; S. D. Bernstein, Cleveland; D. H. Morgan, Akron; Clyde Kirkland, Bellair; H. M. Hazelton, Lancaster; H. S. Holdren, Portsmouth and John E. Alcorn, Columbus.

MELLON TO SPEED UP COLLECTION OF ALL BACK TAXES

Washington, May 4.—Secretary Mellon has taken measures to bring in more government revenues by speeding up collection of back taxes. Audits of taxes paid for past years reveals that back collections will supply a good part of needed revenues if proper methods are adopted to speed up collections.

Delinquent tax collectors are now running about $40,000,000 a month and the monthly audits are increasing that figure gradually. A larger force of experts may be employed to facilitate these payments. Delays in collections are due mostly to the fact that auditing and tax adjustment branches in the field are working at capacity.

CONTINUE EFFORTS TO SETTLE SEA STRIKE

Washington, May 4.—Efforts at settlement of the marine strike were being continued today by government officials.

Admiral Benson, chairman of the U. S. Shipping Board announced that he expects to hold a conference here today with employers and employees and Secretary of Labor Davis and Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

DENY REPORTS THAT GERMANY CHANGES MIND

No New Reparations Offer Has Been Made To Allies.

REVIEW YAP ISSUE Supreme Council Displays Sensitiveness Toward U. S. Demands.

London, May 4.—A report printed by the London Times that Germany had made a new reparations offer direct to the allies was officially denied when the supreme council met today.

From Japanese sources it was learned that the American-Japanese issue involving Yap island might be reviewed by the council this afternoon. It was declared that if this matter was crowded out by the indemnity discussions it would be considered at the next meeting of the supreme council which would be held very soon.

French members of the reparations commission have arrived to assist in completing the indemnity terms to Germany.

Marshal Foch and Vice Admiral Gras, chief of the French naval staff have departed for Paris accompanied by their staffs.

Postpones Departure.

Premier Briand has postponed his departure for Paris until Friday.

Before the council met this afternoon the French premier reiterated that there was perfect accord among the allies although the experts had not agreed fully upon all the details of the plans for German payments. Considerable confusion has arisen over the method of German payments. Three announcements have already been made, but upon subsequent discussion proved unsatisfactory.

It was stated that a note had been drawn inviting the United States to participate in the future deliberations of the supreme council, the reparations commission and the council of ambassadors but it had not been dispatched up to 1 o'clock.

The inability of the reparation experts to complete the details of indemnity terms which Germany must meet under the conditions of the allied ultimatum which will expire on May 12 made it necessary for the supreme council to hold another meeting today. This is the final session.

Goose House.

Premier Lloyd George plans to go before the house of commons tomorrow and make an important speech explaining the decisions which have been reached by the council.

The council has displayed remarkable sensitiveness regarding the American viewpoint on proposed new penalties to compel Germany to meet her indemnity obligations. This has been emphasized by several developments:

1.—The decision not to undertake naval operations against Germany until approved by the United States.

2.—The invitation to the United States to

U. S. SUPREME COURT ANNOUNCES RULING ON ELECTION FUNDS

Washington, May 3—Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan who was convicted in federal court in his home state of having manipulated his election by corrupt practices was freed yesterday by a decision handed down by the supreme court of the United States.

The supreme court vacated the sentence imposed by the lower court—a fine of $10,000 and three years in the penitentiary—and remanded the case.

Senator Newberry and his 16 co-defendants may have to stand trial again, under the court's decision, although it is considered improbable. In remanding the case, the supreme court placed on the lower court the burden of deciding whether a new trial is necessary.

The decision of the supreme court will not affect the investigation of the Ford-Newberry election which is being made by the senate privileges and elections committee; it was announced by Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, chairman of the sub-committee charged with conducting the inquiry. Notwithstanding the court's decision the senate has the power of declaring Newberry ineligible to membership. Senator Spencer stated that hearings in the case would be resumed shortly.

The decision of the court was based upon its conception of what congress had intended when it passed the corrupt practices act, under which Newberry and his associates were convicted. The majority of the court held that the corrupt practices act applied to general elections and not to primaries and that congress had no right to attempt to regulate primaries or conventions. The opinion was somewhat involved on this point.

The opinion was read by Associate Justice McReynolds for the majority. Chief Justice White dissented from the conclusion of the court that congress had no right to regulate primaries, but agreed with the majority in holding that the existing statute had been grossly misconstrued in Newberry's case.

TIPS ON GARDEN MAKING

DO NOT PLANT CORN IN A SINGLE ROW AS IT HAS LITTLE OR NO CHANCE FOR POLLINATION.

PLANTED IN SQUARES THE SAME AMOUNT OF SEED PRODUCES MORE CORN. TWO FEET APART IN ROWS THREE FEET APART. 3 OR 4 SEEDS TO A HILL.

DO NOT HOE CORN TOO VIGOROUSLY AS IT IS SHALLOW ROOTED AND TOO DEEP HOEING DISTURBS THE ROOT SYSTEM.

Five rows of corn ten feet long will produce more sweet corn than the same number of stalks in a single row fifty feet long.

Every strand of corn silk represents a potential kernel of corn on the cob from which it issues. It becomes a kernel of corn provided the dust from the tassel or pollen falls upon it. The pollen dust must be deposited on the silk or there is no kernel of corn. The corn depends upon the wind to drift the pollen dust upon the silk. Other plants depend upon bees, but the bees do not find corn so much to their liking. The tassels give off clouds of dust. All it needs is direction.

In a square of corn, whichever way the wind comes, it drives the dust through the planting. Most of it is bound to fall upon the silks. In a long single row or a double row, the pollen is blown away in great quantities and strikes no silk that it can fertilize. This explains the basis for square planting of corn rather than in long rows.

Two feet apart in the row and rows three feet apart is about the right distance for corn. Three to four stalks in a hill is plenty. Three is better than four for full development. Another system is to plant the corn in rows with single stalks about a foot apart.

Corn loses its sugar within four hours after it is picked. It can't be kept over night and retain its sweetness. A chemical change takes place, which changes the sugar in the corn to starch. So corn is one vegetable that must be home grown or grown very close to home if it is to be placed on the table really sweet.

Corn is the shallowest rooting large growing vegetable. Its roots radiate like the spokes of a wheel, but they do not go deep. This is one reason why it is so easily blown over by a high wind if not hilled up.

As it is shallow rooting too deep hoeing disturbs the root system and hampers growth. This doesn't mean that it should

THE TOWN CLOCK.

The question concerning the advancement of the hands of the town clock to conform with the daylight saving time, now in effect in Xenia, has been drawing the attention of persons, the county over. Arguments both pro and con have been heard on all sides, relative to the status of the timepiece, which still remains an hour behind the city's time, and according to the county commissioners, who have jurisdiction over it, will remain at its present position.

Let's look at this thing from both sides, from the standpoint of the agricultural interests and from the angle of city dwellers.

In the first place the commissioners give as their chief reason for not advancing the time of the clock, the reason that farmers and the farm bureau have protested against any change. This would be an excellent excuse if it came from those who observe standard time. The farmers as a whole are not working under daylight saving time, for economic reasons, but also they are not working under standard time, according to the statement of a leading watch repairman of Greene County. Sun time, he says, nearly half an hour faster than standard time, is usually what they observe. In view of this fact, then, the town clock, as it stands, does not represent the time of the farmer nor city time. It is betwixt and between.

The farmer comes into town to buy, or to bank, looks at the town clock as his authority for warning what time city business houses open and close, and at two thirty, town clock time, goes to the bank only to find it closed. Thus the town clock is defeating the very purpose for which it is there. It results in confusion and misleads the out-of-town visitor.

So far as the city dweller is concerned, the town clock means but little. He is constantly reminded that it is one hour slower by his watch, which shows daylight saving time, and by his hours at the store, office or factory, but the traveling man, the out-of-town shopper or visitor is misled.

It seems in the interests of the entire county that the town clock should be moved up to conform with Xenia's time. In its present status it can do nothing but confuse, without benefitting any great number of persons.

DREADED TYPHOID A VANISHING DISEASE.

Typhoid fever is rapidly disappearing from the records of American mortality. This is indicated by the very convincing evidence offered by the Journal of the American Medical Association in its ninth annual survey of typhoid fever. The survey relates to the sixty-eight cities of the United States with a population of more than 100,000. These cities in 1920 had a population of twenty-seven and one-third millions, and there occurred in that year a total of 1,007 deaths from typhoid fever. This is equivalent to a rate of 3.7 deaths per 100,000 of population. For fifty-seven of these sixty-eight cities figures are available for the full eleven years, 1910 to 1920. In 1910 the typhoid-fever rate was 19.6 per 100,000; in 1920 the same group of cities had a rate of 3.5, or about one-sixth as high. This shows how rapidly this disease has declined during the decade. The picture is even more encouraging if we concentrate upon the largest cities, namely, those having 500,000 or more of population. There are twelve such cities, and their death rate for typhoid in 1920 was only 2.8 per 100,000. The City of New York, with its nearly six millions of population, had a rate of 2.4, and Chicago one of 1.1 per 100,000.

How great has been the victory of sanitary science in its attack upon typhoid is also indicated by reference to the mortality records of the Census Bureau for the early years of this country. Rates of over 50 per 100,000 were of frequent occurrence. In 1900 one State (Indiana) out of the ten original registration States and seven cities of 100,000 population or more out of thirty-seven such cities had typhoid-fever rates of more than fifty per 100,000. Indeed, rates of more than 100 were not infrequently registered. During the first ten years of the century such high rates were recorded, however, often in the smaller than in the larger cities of the country.

SPREAD OF DIPHTHERIA.

From the Metropolitan Insurance Magazine. One of the few unfavorable features in a health situation that is generally excellent is the heavy mortality throughout the country from diphtheria. This disease reached epidemic prevalence during the last few months of 1919 and the first part of 1920. At that time communities were urged not to slacken their efforts against diphtheria and to develop a vigorous campaign against the disease. The more general use of the Schick test for the recognition of susceptibles and the early and more extensive use of antitoxin were recommended. There is, however, little improvement in the diphtheria situation. The rate rose sharply last October, and in November and December still further increases were registered, however, oftener in the smaller than in the larger cities of the country.

TRAINING AIR PILOTS.

It is not going to be an altogether simple matter to obtain an air pilot's license if Great Britain's precedent is generally followed. Instead of becoming less strict since the conclusion of the war did away with the need for special skill in "stunt" flying, the requirements for air navigators are more exacting.

The British Air Ministry requires that all pilots licensed to carry passengers must pass an examination in aerial navigation. To do this requires fair education and some special study. In addition to this test and to certain definite physical standards which must be met, air transport managers not connected with the government in any way are adding a character test for their pilots.

It has been recognized from the first that one of the chief handicaps of aviation was the inability to cope with all sorts of weather. Accurate weather forecasts are essential to safe, commercial flying, yet those who are studying this phase of aviation declare that so far meteorological knowledge is very meager indeed. The usual method of taking observations requires a large number of stations, delicate instruments, constant effort, large personnel and considerable expense. It has been suggested that if pilots were trained in this work, every flight, of great or little importance, could serve for collecting necessary data and compiling useful observations. Hence meteorology bids fair to be added to the list of the pilot's accomplishments.

All this specialization will mean longer and more expensive training for the airmen, but it will also mean greater safety in flying and steady advancement of the science of aerial navigation.

OUR FIRST CONTRIBUTION TOWARDS INTERNATIONAL PEACE

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

Harrisburg, returned home, today.

A fellow from Cincinnati claiming to represent the United Commercial Traveler's Association, now in convention in Springfield, struck the city a few days ago and arranged with the Grand and Florence Hotels for accommodating fifty traveling men each for supper lodging and breakfast. A special train was to have arrived here last night with a hundred men, both hotels provided all the extra provisions, but looked in vain for their expected guests.

Miss Scotia Brundage who has been enjoying a pleasant visit with friends in Boston, New York and Miss Clara O'Brien, who has been having some trouble with her throat recently, has recovered entirely and has resumed her position as bookkeeper at the Kingsbury Clothing Store.

Mr. Marshall Wolfe went over to Dayton last night and made a "clean up" on two crack checker players who were in Xenia a few days ago and vanquished some of the players here. The Dayton players will be over here on Friday night again to try another whirl with the Xenians.

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

The men and women who go into a store today to buy any advertised article, however small, have their interests safeguarded by many agencies unknown to them.

Every shopper knows, in a general way, that if a merchant or manufacturer invests money in advertising space and is willing to let his reputation as a seller of quality merchandise at fair prices be judged by his printed promises, it is advantageous to buy the merchandise he advertises.

The A. N. P. A.—The American Newspaper Publishers' Association—composed of the heads of America's foremost newspapers, realize that advertising to be successful must mutually serve the reader, the newspaper, the advertiser.

Service is the spirit of the times.

In accordance with the Rotarian motto that, "He profits most who serves best," the A. N. P. A.'s Bureau of Advertising recently developed a National Campaign of advertising which explains why it is advantageous for merchants and manufacturers to advertise now. Their suggestions are mutually helpful, for no merchant or manufacturer would advertise long if the service which the newspapers offer did not aid the reader of advertising.

But newspaper advertising does aid the reader.

One of the finest "Reasons Why" talks in the A. N. P. A. series is called "The Universal Daily Habit." This is the habit of reading the daily newspaper which every intelligent person possesses. What created the habit? A desire for news which found continuous satisfaction through the newspaper columns.

Advertising is business news.

Newspaper readers turn to their newspaper when they want to buy just as the turn to it for the ball score or the latest developments across the sea." What created the habit of reading advertising? The continuous satisfaction which readers found when they bought under the direction of the advertising news.

This buyer satisfaction has increased advertising news to the point where, during the past year, merchants and manufacturers spent more than $1,240,000,000 for space in which to tell their merchandise news.

This great expenditure paid the advertiser because it paid the men and women who read advertising.

The profits to advertiser and reader are the result of service rendered by Newspapers, Advertising Men and reputable business firms, which insure buyer satisfaction.

Thus is the circle of mutual service, mutual profit, complete.

No person, who spends money, either for himself or others, can afford to neglect the advertising columns.

The buying news found here makes it possible to purchase at reasonable prices the needed things and to have money left over for these other things which add comfort and enjoyment to life.

Heed this wise advice from another of the A. N. P. A.'s news messages:

"Prices in a number of lines have reached bottom."

"If you want evidence of it read the advertising in this newspaper from day to day."

"See the new prices that remind you of the 'good old days.'

"You will find the newspaper advertising of the merchants and manufacturers very helpful just now. These advertisers deserve your support for they are pioneers who are cutting through the forest of doubt and making a clean path to good times."

GOLE AND HOW TO PLAY IT

By Chas. Chick Evans Jr.

FROM THE TEE

The drive has the advantage of being the first shot to every hole, and when perfectly executed it starts the player off with confidence and has a tendency to take the heart out of his opponent. On the other hand, however, if the second player can follow a good drive with a better one he will have an immense psychological advantage.

Standing on the tee I take a niblick, the heaviest club in my bag, and swing it once or twice, the object being to make the driver seem light. Then I lay aside and take a couple of swings with my driver. As I address my ball my chief thought is that my wrists must be supple enough to make the clubhead swing like a ball on the end of a string for in that way is the clubhead made to do its share of the work.

At first I stand with my feet close together, holding the club loosely in my hand. In that position I place my clubhead with its sole flat (neither toes, or heel, off the ground) back of the ball; the imaginary direction line leading from a point back of the ball through the clubhead to the hole.

My stance is approximately square that is, my left toe is only an inch or so behind the straight line drawn from toe to toe in the square stance. The ball is played off the left heel, or between that and a line midway between the feet. I first take a provisional stance, however, and extend my arm at full length, but easily, being particularly careful to avoid stiffness. Then follows a preparatory wiggle for relaxation and an adjustment of my feet for comfort. These preparatory movements are made entirely for comfort and relaxation.

Just before starting the stroke I press forward on the club until my hands are a little in advance of the clubhead, then the hands are brought back to or beyond their initial position and from that point the backward swing begins. In this backward swing the clubhead describes an arc the hands leading until the turning point of the clubhead when for the tiniest fragment of space hands and the club are on the same line, a relative position not repeated until the ball is hit. The beginning of the twist at the waist

LAD ELECTROCUTED WHILE PLAYING WITH A WIRE

Washington, C. H., May 4.—David H. Judy, 14, was killed about eight o'clock Sunday night on Henkle street when a guy wire on which he was swinging came in contact with an electric wire carrying 5,000 volts.

Children had been playing on the wire all day, and when the boy dropped to the ground with the words, "I'm shocked, pick me up," his companions believed he was talking in fun.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bert Judy of Elm street.

Who is Swift & Company?

Swift & Company is not a one man or one family affair. It is a company owned by more than 40,000 people scattered over the face of the globe—forty thousand shareholders with voting powers and a share in the risks and profits of the business.

Most of the forty thousand live here in the United States. But some of them live in France, some in England, others in the Philippines, Hawaii, Alaska.

13,000 of them are women.

Nearly 14,000 of them are employees.

The average individual holdings are small—about 37 shares apiece.

No one person or family owns a majority of the stock.

In fact, it would take 900 of the largest shareholders pooled together to vote 51 per cent of the stock!

These shareholders are the men and women whose money, in the form of capital, makes Swift & Company possible.

They are jealous of the character and reputation of their organization, proud of what it is doing, proud to have a part in supplying to the world such products as Swift's Premium Ham and Bacon, Brookfield Sausage, Silverleaf Brand Pure Lard, Wool Soap, Swift & Company's fresh meats, etc.

The executives of Swift & Company maintain the high standards of these products as an imperative duty not only to the 40,000 shareholders, but to the public.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Escaloped Potatoes and Cheese. Six medium sized potatoes peeled and sliced, one-quarter pound cheese (rather strong) grated, two level tablespoons flour, very small onion, two cups milk, pepper and salt. Arrange potato and cheese in casserole in layers with the cheese finishing the top, make a white sauce with the milk, butter, flour and onion, with pepper and salt. Pour over the potato and cheese and bake till done.

Dandelion Salad. Take just the very tender leaves and buds, wash well and drain. With sharp scissors cut it up fine, place in granite pan or crock. Fry two slices bacon, cut in dice, add one-half cup vinegar, two tablespoons sugar, pepper and salt, heat through and pour over the dandelions; stir up good. Put on salad plates and garnish with chopped hard boiled egg.

Rhubarb Brown Betty. Three cups bread crumbs, two cups rhubarb, one cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, one egg, three-quarters cup milk. Toast the bread till dry and crush it, not too fine. Cut the rhubarb quite fine and mix sugar, crumbs and rhubarb together. Warm the milk, melt butter in it, beat the egg well with milk and moisten the other ingredients with it. Cover the dish with a plate and bake one-half hour in quite hot oven. Serve with cream or rich milk.

HOUSECLEANING HELPS

To Make Windows Clear and Shiny. When washing windows have a clear sudsy water, but don't have it too sudsy, as this will make the window streaked. Wash them with a soft cloth and dry them. Then take a newspaper and crumple it up and go over the window with this. It removes the lint which is on the window from the cloth. This leaves a clear, shiny finish on the window.

To Launder Pongee Curtains. Wash in warm water and soap flakes, between the hands. Rinse out all soap water real good, put on line till half dry, roll up in big bath towels for a little while, then iron; no starch. Ironing damp makes them like new.

Care of the Kitchen Range. After broiling or frying, if any fat has spattered on the range wipe the surface at once with newspaper.

DISCOVERIES

Cream that is too thin to whip properly will whip much better if the white of an egg is added.

If a large quantity of cream is used, use the whites of two eggs. This will add both to the quality and quantity of the cream.

Adding a little lemon juice to water when mixing will make pastry light.

Before removing shoes for the night give them the once over with a cotton flannel rag and your shoes will be ready for a quick getaway every morning.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man twenty-one years of age and have been going with a young lady of the same age. We were engaged to be married when I met another girl and found out that I cared more for her.

Now I am at a loss to know what would be the better way, to go and tell her just how I feel, or just stay away? DOUBTFUL L. R. E.

I would advise you to tell the girl how you feel and ask her to leave you.

Miss L. M.: Get a cleaning material at a drug store.

May: Do not get with a married man. He does not love his wife, and he does not love you either. If he did, he would not ask you to sacrifice yourself and do the things he wants you to. It is decidedly wrong to go on the trips and would also be wrong to go to the town where he lives.

Three Lonely Maidens: My column is not conducted for matrimonial purposes. You will have to look elsewhere for correspondents. I would advise however, that you wait, as girls of refinement do, until you are sought by young men.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married man and try my best to satisfy my wife. I work every day and do everything she asks me to do. I take her everywhere she wants to go. I beg and do my best to get her to stay home once in a while, but I cannot. She threatens to leave me just because I don't believe in dancing.

Please advise me. I am very dissatisfied with my life. C. H. S.

In order for a married couple to be happy, sacrifices are necessary on the part of both husband and wife. Your wife should not expect you to take her somewhere every night, but if she wants to go once or twice a week, you ought to take her. Perhaps it would help to talk the matter over and come to an understanding about the number of nights a week you will go out together and the number you will spend at home. Some men do not realize that housework grows monotonous to a woman and she enjoys a change. On the other hand some women forget that their husbands have no chance to rest during the day and are tired by night.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been writing to a boy at a navy yard. He seems to be a very nice young man, but I know nothing of him or his people. How can I find out what he is? Do you think that I could find out about him through the navy department? If so, to whom should I write?

BLUE EYES.

The best way will be to judge the young man by his letters. Let your parents read them, too, and pass their judgment. He will betray his character in what he writes.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young man and would like to know if it would be proper for me to write a friendly note to a young lady and ask her for permission to call on her. We were schoolmates several years ago, but have not had a conversation since. If it is all right to write a note, had I better find out if she has a regular caller or not?

THANK YOU.

It would be all right to write to the young lady and ask her permission to call. Do not question her about any other callers. If she is betrothed she will probably tell you so, and if she is not, there is no reason why you should not call, even if she has other callers.

Do you notice in your cooperation with school instructors in the course of home reading being introduced in the schools, a failure on the part of the parents to appreciate this course?"

This question was asked of the Greene County Librarian, Miss Etta McElwain during a lull in her busy day. Finding time, between the search for a fairy story for a school child and the application blank to be made out for another "home-reader" she gave the following information:

"When the reading course was first introduced into the schools, some mothers objected to the idea, although no definite reason was stated. Whether we have overcome this objection is not fully known, but in our cooperation we have noticed that the majority of the mothers are in high favor with the plan."

"Our firm advocacy of recreational reading, we think might be the means of solving and answering any objection that may arise. Many a mother's only recreation lies in the enjoyment of a book. If mothers will follow this practice and encourage the idea, the new problem and its benefits will be answered.

"A person is never too old or too young to enjoy the value of reading. Human nature never changes in its likes and dislikes of reading material and where one type fails another finds its place. The youngster in the second and third grades gains much enjoyment out of the accomplishment of picking out letters that form a word. Next comes the boy or girl who understands the formation of words which arouse their imagination and the fever for fairy stories is aroused. We could dwell to much length on the choice of readers as to their special type of reading material which after all is an interesting story," the librarian declared while filling the wants of a girl who had asked aid in the choice of something "exciting."

"Instructors and parents should train the child in the practice of reading at the age when the memory is at the best stage, the sooner the better," continued Miss McElwain.

"The primary benefit of the course of home reading in the schools is the privilege of affording the pupil the best reading at a time when they need it the most and when the benefit will be the most lasting."

"The general opinion that fiction is not the type of reading for young folks is to our theory wrong and for this reason—through pressure brought by educators in making

Miss Chadsey was an excellent editor for the work, because of her experience in civic affairs. She was formerly chief of the bureau of sanitation in Cleveland and was the first woman to direct a force of policemen. She had more than twenty uniformed policemen on her staff.

It was during her tenure of office that Cleveland passed a tenement house code and sanitary code which were used as models for other cities.

During the war Miss Chadsey was in Washington as secretary of a committee on women in industry of the council of national defense. Later she was secretary of the Cleveland course in employment given by the war industries board.

I went to Italy after the armistice and the experience of living and traveling business in a foreign city showed me that places to give the social, civic and spiritual aims and accomplishments of a city."

COLES PHILLIPS CONSIDERS HER MOST BEAUTIFUL DEBUTANTE IN NEW YORK

Miss Alison McBain.

Miss Alison McBain has been selected and sketched by Coles Phillips, the famous color artist, as the most beautiful debutante in New York. When he drew her portrait recently as "The New York University Girl" (which role she is to fill in the $6,450,000 endowment fund campaign now being waged) she was recognized as Mr. Phillips's favorite model, and one of the best known poster and magazine cover girls in New York. She has been a stage and screen actress and is a Canadian by birth.

JANE ADDAMS OF HULL HOUSE HAS GOOD WORD FOR THE MODERN GIRL

ANSWERED LETTERS

Binney—You can clear your complexion by taking a blood purifier, which is excellent at this season of the year. This will also rid you of those pimples and blackheads on your arms and back. The blood tonic is made by mixing flour of sulphur with molasses, until paste is formed.

Take one teaspoonful three times each day, for three days. Omit three days, take it for another three days and alternate in this way, until the skin is cleared. Nine or ten days should be enough time to accomplish this and if you still feel that it should be continued wait a week and begin again, as any blood purifier, if persistently taken, will thin the blood.

Troubled Mother—You should consult a doctor about your little girl. The splitting hair and bad condition of her scalp are merely the result of some other disturbance. She may be anaemic and in need of building up.

S. G. J.—Your skin can only be restored by a course of treatments. You can do this yourself if you prefer it. You should take a daily warm ened pores on your face. The in-bath, which will relieve those coarse-jury you have done your skin, through squeezing the pimples, may disappear as the texture of the skin improves, if not, there is professional treatment which will help it. A clean digestive system is also requisite.

Two or three times each week cleanse the pores of the face and throat with a cream for this purpose. Remove with hot moistened cloths and paint the skin with an astringent, such as a diluted white of an egg. Give this fully 15 minutes to contract the pores and remove it with hot moistened cloth as before. Gently massage into the pores as much cream of a good quality, as the skin will absorb. Remove surplus and rub the face and throat with a small piece of ice, until the skin glows. This will refine the skin of any person who will try it. With some only one treatment each week, will be necessary.

R. S.—The formula for my Black-head Cleansing Powder is as follows: Cornstarch or wheat flour, 2 ounces. Borax, 1 ounce. Almond meal, 1 ounce. This is to be mixed and used in place of soap.

E. W.—The camphor will do it, as it dries out some of the tissue under the skin.

T. N. T.—Cocoa butter should never be used on the face as it may induce a growth of hair. Circles around the eyes usually come from internal troubles, often from a sluggish liver. Your family may have a habit of frowning which causes bad lines. If this is so, it can be corrected by smoothing out the line and placing a piece of court plaster on it at times, which reminds you to stop the habit, as it hurts somewhat as you frown again.

Reader—To make the Henna Shampoo, add one ounce of powdered Egyptian henna to three ounces of powdered white soap, and mix. Take one tablespoonful for each shampoo, to a pint of hot water and lather on the head. As you merely want to brighten the hair, do not allow the lather to remain on the head any longer than the time taken up by the shampoo.

Mother-Brown Eyes—As you have not given me your height, I cannot give the information. If you send an addressed stamped envelope, full directions for reducing will be mailed to you.

Albert H.—You can have a permanent wave which will keep your hair in curl for six months.

HENRY CLEWS

Weekly Financial Review

Announcement of the terms for a reparations adjustment, proposed by Germany, has seemed to furnish good warrant for the optimistic hopes and expectations which have maintained the exchange market during recent weeks. The developments of the past few days have made it less certain than appeared at first that the conclusion of the reparations discussion had been reached. Nevertheless, the second proposal of Germany is recognized as a step toward practical financial adjustment. In the opinion of legal bankers such an adjustment, when arrived at, will undoubtedly be actively furthered by American financiers. Early settlement of the British coal strike difficulties will be all that is needed then to lay the foundation for a restoration of better conditions.

Financial Outlook

Domestically the significant phase of the present business and investment prospect is seen in connection with the deflation which is advancing so effectively. Federal Reserve notes are now of about $520,000,000 from point reached a year ago, while there has been reduction in bills discounted of over $700,000,000. A total of only about $2,167,000,000 bills on hand in the entire Federal Reserve system certainly does not appear large, especially when considered in the light of steadily increasing gold reserves which are $381,000,000 higher than they were one year ago. The liquidation has undoubtedly progressed very rapidly within the past two or three months. One of the best evidences of it is afforded by the cut in outstanding deposits of national banks, which, according to the Controller of the Currency's figures just issued, have fallen off about $1,500,000 from the high point of approximately $17,000,000,000 which had been reached last year. In fact, it is admitted by those who are most familiar with the situation that it would be necessary for the banks practically to add their accommodations for the coming crop year to the amount of advances which are already carried for member banks.

Condition of Business

The condition of business has shown within the past few days renewed tendency toward recovery. This recovery had been most obvious in the textile industries, notably silk, and in automobiles but it is now extending itself into building, where a decided revival is under way, besides reaching into several other industries, some of which are engaged in supplying building material.

The revival has not reached the steel trade in any marked degree, although employers report that conditions there are more hopeful and that there is a better tone in the business than has been true within recent weeks. A rather larger freight movement is also reported on a number of the railroads and there is indication that the savings which have been effected through the reduction of working staffs have begun to show themselves. Earnings statements issued by Pennsylvania Railroad reflect a condition which has compelled the reduction of the dividend rate to 4 per cent, notwithstanding the constant effort of the past few months to reduce expenses. This situation is typical of conditions on our best roads and must be remedied. An important labor issue is now sharply drawn through refusal of marine workers to accept a wage cut of 15 per cent, proposed by the Shipping Board. The continued movement of gold into the country reflects the difficulty of foreign nations in paying for our exports with their own products.

Developments in Congress

Developments of the week in Congress have been important as showing the trend of legislative thought and probable forthcoming action. Opposition to the sales tax has been expressed by some of the radical leaders, both in thought and forthcoming action. Opposition to the sales tax has been expressed by some of the radical leaders, both in the Republican and Democratic parties, which are drawing their inspiration from organizations of farmers, while sharp reply has been made by advocates of tax revision and reform. An effort is being made to stir up class feeling on this question. Progress in connection with the tariff bill has also been made, the Senate Finance Committee having eliminated from the measure the ob-

Oak Harbor, Ohio.—"I had a very good experience with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I had been having boils all over my body; my blood was impoverished and in very poor condition. I took the 'Discovery' and, it cleared up my blood and so purified it that I have never had any more boils. WALL ST. BOMBING SUSPECT HELD ON SLACKER CHARGE

Tito Ligi

While New York and federal officials are tracing the movements of Tito Ligi the day of the Wall street bombing outrage, he is being held in Scranton, Pa., on a charge of wilfully violating the selective service act during the war. So far witnesses brought from New York to Scranton have failed to identify him as being at the scene of the explosion.

SHOOTS HUSBAND IN EFFORT TO GUARD HER MONEY, POLICE TOLD

Urbana, May 4.—With the "vamp" out of the way, safely behind prison bars again, Mrs. Tom Wheeler, wife of the Fountain Park man who ran away with Allie Dawes, a ward of the Marysville Reformatory is inclined to forgive and forget. Such is the opinion of Magistrate Rock before whom the case of non-support charged against Wheeler was brought Saturday afternoon. It will be remembered that Wheeler was arrested in Cincinnati in company with the Dawes woman charged with adultery. The Dawes woman was returned to the reformatory and Wheeler placed in jail here to face a charge of non-support filed by the wife.

IS INSPECTOR OF FEDERAL PRISONS

Urbana, May 4.—Randolph McAdams, Inspector of Federal Prisons is home for a few days after reporting for his new position last Tuesday at Washington. "Mac" is sticking close to the administration family and as a close friend of Attorney General Daugherty, who is responsible for his appointment, he is, of course, close to the president, himself. However his immediate superior is Heber H. Votaw a brother-in-law of President Harding so Mac's still in the "fam-i-lee" Mac's appointment received the "Okay" of the County Republican executive committee.

Have Pains?

Aches and pains seem to be the lot of the ordinary mortal. However, these should be taken simply as nature's warning signals that some part of the human machine is out of order. It is a mistake to resign one's self physical torture when the cause can be removed.

Isaac R. Turnman, Asbury Park, N.J., writes: "My back caused me a great deal of trouble for sometime. I experienced sharp, shooting pains which were due to the trouble of my kidneys. On bottle of Foley Kidney Pills completely relieved me. The pains left my back. I recommend Foley Kidney Pills to my friends."

DAYTON MINISTER TO GIVE MEMORIAL DAY TALK HERE

The Rev. Huber, U. B. pastor, from Dayton, will be the speaker at the annual Memorial Day exercises at Woodland Cemetery.

This was the report of the committee consisting of John H. McPherson, of Lewis Post, G. A. R.; James Paulin, of Foody Post, of the American Legion, and L. S. Barnes of the Sons of Veterans, selected to secure a speaker, which submitted a report at the meeting of representatives of various patriotic organizations held Monday night.

It was found by the committee that the speaker who will deliver the address at the O. S. & S. J. Home will be unable to address the gathering at Woodland Cemetery, the same day, and for that reason it was necessary to secure another speaker.

Members of Lewis Post, attending the meeting Monday night, expressed the belief that this will be the last year in which they will actively participate in the Memorial Day exercises. They expect that by next year, the entire charge of the annual Decoration Day exercises, will be turned over to the American Legion, to carry on. For this reason the Memorial Day services this year have especial significance and no pains will be spared to carry out the exercises perfectly.

Further committees were named Monday night. Erskine Winter, of Foody Post, American Legion, being placed in charge of the music at the Cemetery; a committee consisting of one representative from each organization will handle the publicity and a committee consisting of John W. Hedges, of Lewis Post, and Ernest E. Fries of Foody Post, was selected to make the arrangements for the annual Church Memorial service which will be held on Sunday at the First Baptist Church.

G. A. R. members who will be in charge of the morning services at the different cemeteries are W. L. Smith, Beavercreek; John H. McPherson, Catholic Cemetery; I. T. Cummings, Stevenson Cemetery and S. P. Pennington, Mercer Cemetery.

INVITE THIRTY HIGH SCHOOLS TO FIELD MEET ON MAY 13

Athletes from 30 high schools in this section of the state have been invited by Wilbur H. Thomas Post of the American Legion of Jamestown to take part in the field meet, May festival and all-day picnic to be staged in Ogan's Park, Jamestown, under the auspices of that organization, all day Friday, May 13.

That practically all of these schools will send athletic representatives to compete in the 14 events for the excellent prizes to be awarded, is the belief of Dewitt H. Hilton of the Jamestown Legion, who is working on the field events committee. The affair is the first of its kind to be staged in Greene County for some time, and is attracting considerable interest as a possible revival of field events in high schools and the nucleus for annual inter-school field meets.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the field day, which will begin at eight o'clock in the morning. From eight until ten, the program will consist of a May Festival plans for which are being worked out by the Girls Dramatic Club, affiliated with the Legion. The field events will start at ten o'clock in the morning, and will continue until about 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, with an intermission at noon. Visitors will bring baskets of lunch with them for the affair, and will picnic on the grass at noon.

The fourteen events in which the high school athletes will compete will be the discus throw, the running high jump, the running broad jump, the 12 pound shot put, the javelin throw, the pole vault, the 220 yard low hurdles, the 100 yard dash, the mile run, the 440 yard run, the 120 yard high hurdles, the 220 yard run, the 880 yard run, and a mile in which four runners will compete for each team.

The Legion is offering a $100 loving cup as the principal prize to the team scoring the highest number of points, while medals will be awarded as individual prizes to participants winning in the different events. Besides these prizes, both Wilmington and Cedarville Colleges, have offered scholarships, which will probably be awarded to the Senior high school student on any team who attains the highest number of points in any line. The presidents of the Colleges will act as judges on the scholarship awards.

After the field events are concluded at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, there will be a baseball game between the Jamestown Legion team and the Wittenberg College nine, and the day of festivities will be concluded Friday night with an "Athletic Dance" at the Legion Hall. A single admission of 50 cents will be charged for all the open air events.

Athletes from Central High School this city, will enter the field events, it is said.

AUTO THIEVES SENTENCED

Detroit, May 4.—Five Bridgeport, Conn., New York and Detroit men, charged with conspiracy to violate the Detroiter automobile thief set were convicted by a jury in U. S. district court. Each was sentenced to two years in Leavenworth.

AT A MOTHERS' MEETING

The wife of a noted New York divine said to her listeners, "Watch carefully your daughter's physical development. Mothers should keep their daughters well informed as to matters pertaining to health, and should see that nature is assisted, if necessary, to perform its offices."

Irregularities and pain are warning symptoms of some trouble, and mothers may depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to correct them, and restore the system to a healthy, normal condition.

SIXTY PER CENT OF FOUNDRIES NON UNION

That at least 60 per cent of the foundries in the Ohio district are now open shops, was the statement made by Samuel Powell, Jr., secretary of the Ohio State Foundrymen's Association at the convention of that organization held at the Miami Hotel in Dayton Tuesday.

Powell's discussion on "Labor" was the principal feature of the afternoon program. He said that international officers of the Molders' Union, who last December predicted there would be no cut in foundry wages, are now telling the molders to take the best settlement they can.

In the Miami Valley, Powell said, molders are being paid $6.40, at Pittsburgh, a drop of from $7.50 to $6.75 has been recorded and at Detroit, the scale has dropped from $8.50 to $7.20. Other speakers at the Tuesday session were Ernest F. DuBrull, general manager of the National Machine Tool Builders' Association and E. T. Runge, of the Runge Cast Co.

The bids must be in by 12 o'clock, noon, June 4.

That work on the construction of the new Central High School building and the new East High School building would be started before the middle of June, was given assurance with the publication of the first advertisement for bids, Tuesday.

Bids were asked on all labor and materials according to the plans and specifications which are on file in the office of Business Manager John B. Beacham, at the office of the architects, Pretzinger and Musselman, of Dayton, and at the Builders' Exchange in Columbus, Springfield, Cincinnati and Dayton.

The十四 events in which the high school athletes will compete will be the discus throw, the running high jump, the running broad jump, the 12 pound shot put, the javelin throw, the pole vault, the 220 yard low hurdles, the 100 yard dash, the mile run, the 440 yard run, the 120 yard high hurdles, the 220 yard run, the 880 yard run, and a mile in which four runners will compete for each team.
